The Church, the Economy, and Social Justice: REFLECTIONS ON CARITAS IN VERITATE

This summer, amidst the world's worst economic crisis since the Great Depression, Pope Benedict XVI released an important encyclical on economic development and the human person. Caritas in Veritate ("charity in truth") refines and extends Catholic social thought on this fundamental issue at a crucial time. Join us for a discussion with three distinguished scholars on the document and its theological, ethical and economic significance.
