Foreword

The Boston College Fact Book is a summary of significant statistics gathered from various sources throughout the University. Once again, we wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation for the excellent cooperation and assistance received from these many sources.

The purpose of the Fact Book is to produce a single-source publication and reference document touching upon and integrating all aspects of the institution's people and its operations. We do wish to point out to all users that the information presented herein was compiled at a specific time — September-October, 1987 — to reflect the Academic Year 1986–1987, as well as the most current enrollment statistics for 1987–1988.

The majority of the information is extracted from management reports produced on a regular basis by the various source offices. When reviewing the figures presented we advise you to always note the time frame referenced in the individual tables, and to contact responsible offices should you have further questions.

With this 16th edition, we continue our efforts to produce a Fact Book that integrates the latest information with an historical overview. We welcome suggestions for additional data and improvements.

Boston College A Brief History

Boston College was founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863, and is one of twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States. With three teachers and twenty-two students, the school opened its doors on September 5, 1864. While it remained a small liberal arts college, the faculty was predominantly Jesuit, but today's full-time faculty is comprised of 39 Jesuits and 524 laymen and women. Part-time faculty positions are held by 20 Jesuits, in addition to 20 Jesuit members of the university administration.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, where it shared quarters with the Boston College High School, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first fifty years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill, then almost rural, and four parcels of land were acquired in 1907. A design competition for the development of the campus was won by the firm of Maginnis and Walsh, and ground was broken on June 19, 1909, for the construction of Gasson Hall. It is located on the site of the Lawrence farmhouse, in the center of the original tract of land purchased by Father Gasson, and is built largely of stone taken from a quarry which occupied part of the sites of Devlin, Higgins, and Cushing Halls. The foundations were blasted out of solid ledge. Because of its historic value, Gasson was completely restored in 1976 in order to preserve its familiar Gothic spires for future generations of students and alumni.

Later purchases doubled the size of the property, with the addition of the upper campus in 1941, and the lower campus with the purchase of the Lawrence Basin and adjoining land in 1949. In 1974 Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the main campus. With fifteen handsome Georgian buildings standing in a park-like estate of forty acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School, as well as several academic departments, and dormitories housing over 800 students, primarily freshmen.

Though incorporated as a University since its beginning, it was not until its second half-century that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its University charter. The Summer Session was inaugurated in 1924; the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School, 1929; the Evening College, 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work, 1936; the College of Business Administration, 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as the School of Management. The Schools of Nursing and Education were founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively. Weston Observatory, founded in 1928, was accepted as a Department of Boston College in 1947, offering courses in geophysics and geology to graduate students.

In 1927 Boston College conferred one earned bachelor's degree and fifteen master's degrees on women through the Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the Evening College, and the Summer Session. Today's women students comprise 57 percent of the University's enrollment, and 43 percent of a total alumni body of over 91,000.

Now the fourth largest private university in New England, with full- and part-time enrollment of over 14,000, Boston College consists of eleven schools, colleges, and institutes offering thirteen degree programs and one certification program.

¹This statistic includes regular university scholarships and grants (through the operating budget), faculty kin tuition remission, minority scholarships, athletic grants, Jesuit Reduction, Alumni Association Scholarships, and endowed monies for scholarships.

²State scholarship funds to students from Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Maryland, Maine, New Hampshire.

³Students who are enrolled at least half-time in an undergraduate degree program are eligible to apply for these grants. Formerly Basic Educational Opportunity Grants, Pell Grants are awarded to students with need, and eligibility is determined directly by the Federal Government.

⁴Available to students enrolled at least half-time in an undergraduate degree program. These grants are awarded to students with exceptional need and are termed "last resort."

⁵Available to undergraduates and graduates enrolled at least half-time. These loan funds are obtained by Federal Government contributions, Boston College contributions and collections of previous loans awarded. The loans have up to a 10-year repayment period with an interest rate of 5% per year on the unpaid balance.

⁶This is a duplicated total since some students receive more than one type of aid.

NOTE: In an effort to minimize statistical detail, the above data does not include Boston College graduate student assistance (approximately $3,715,291 in 1986-87) administered by the various schools and departments. Also excluded are the Nursing Loan Program ($97,100 in 1986-87), a variety of government fellowships or scholarships from fraternal organizations and clubs ($1,484,674 in 1986-87), and Higher Education Loans processed by the Financial Aid Office and disbursed by banks ($14,336,558 in 1986-87), all of which are open to both undergraduate and graduate students. (In addition, the University processed parental loans totaling $3,018,837 from banks and the Massachusetts Education Loan Authority.)

Special Library Services

Computer Search Service

In 1974, the Boston College Nursing Library became the first nursing library in the United States to receive a contract from the National Library of Medicine for the MEDLINE database. Since then the Boston College Libraries have added computerized databases for the humanities, social sciences, education, medicine and health sciences, business and economics, pure and applied sciences, and engineering. These include among others: BRS Inc., DIALOG, SDC (System Development Corporation), NLM (National Library of Medicine), Dow-Jones Retrieval Service, VU-TEXT, Mead Data Central (for NEXIS only on Chestnut Hill campus), Pergamon-Infoline, H. W. Wilson Company (WILSONLINE), and STN International. There are also available in the libraries many multidisciplinary databases which cover specific types of publications (e.g., dissertations, government publications, patents).

The Law School Library has access to LEXIS and WESTLAW as well as NEXIS and DIALOG. Access to some of these files may be limited by contract to members of the Law School community.

Since September 1985, the Libraries have offered access to BRS After Dark, a system designed for use by individuals who have little or no system or database experience. In 1986, the Libraries added access to several databases on CD-ROM, which utilizes optical storage. Other end-user systems will be added.

Contact the appropriate reference librarian or service desk for more information or to arrange for small group discussions or demonstrations, presentations to classes, or to department meetings.

Automated Catalog

The Boston College Libraries have an automated online catalog which provides access to a half-million bibliographical records. The catalog may be searched by author, title, subject, call-number, or keyword in subject headings and titles.

Interlibrary Loan

The Interlibrary Loan Service is offered to students, faculty, administrators, and staff to facilitate obtaining materials not available in the Boston College Libraries. Books, photocopies of journal articles, microfilm, theses, and government documents may be borrowed from other libraries. Except for unusual items, the waiting period is from one to four weeks; for anyone willing to use the material at the holding library, a computerized system at the reference desk will provide locations. Request forms and further information are available from the Interlibrary Loan staff in each library.

Boston Library Consortium

The library is a member of the Boston Library Consortium, a group of area libraries which includes Brandeis, Boston University, Tufts, Wellesley, Northeastern, MIT, Massachusetts State Library, Boston Public Library, and University of Massachusetts. Faculty and graduate students may apply for a Consortium borrower's card at the reference department in O'Neill. The Consortium maintains a central office at the Boston Public Library. Further information may be found in the User Guide and the Consortium Handbook, available in all libraries.

United States Government Publications

In 1964, Boston College was designated as one of the Federal Depository Libraries for this congressional district. This status entitles the O'Neill Library to receive, on a selective basis, United States government publications at no cost with the stipulation that they be made available to the general public. Most of the material circulates in the same manner as books. Inquiries related to the use of government documents should be directed to the Government Documents Department on the first floor of the O'Neill Library.

Media Services

The Media Services Department in O'Neill Library houses information in many formats -- videocassettes, 16mm films, audiocassettes, 35mm slides, phonograph records, filmstrips, and computer disks. All materials are used in the library in small group rooms or individually with headsets. The Department collects materials in all subject areas within the university's teaching and research interests.

New England Library Information Network/OCLC

Through membership in the New England Library Information Network (NELINET), our users have online access to publishing, cataloging, and interlibrary loan location information from the data bank of OCLC, Inc. which contains over 16 million bibliographic records from the Library of Congress and from 2,900 other libraries in North America.

Special Collections

Rare and valuable books, manuscripts, and archives form Special Collections. Access is controlled because of their scarcity, value, or fragile nature. Outstanding collections are listed below. Contact Special Collections for further information.

Hilaire Belloc Collection and Archives, 1870–1953

The world's most complete assemblage of materials dealing with this versatile British Catholic critic, historian, essayist, journalist, novelist, poet, and politician. Includes his personal library, all published works, and most of his correspondence and manuscripts.

Banking Archives

Archives of several banks, including the Hibernia Savings Bank, the Union Warren, The Provident Institution for Savings, and the Yankee Bank for Finance and Savings. Also included is the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts.

British Catholic Authors (see also Belloc; Chesterton)

Books, archives, letters, etc. of prominent nineteenth and twentieth century writers: Maurice Baring, George Barker, Robert Hugh Benson, Pamela Frankau, Graham Greene, Ronald Knox, Peter Levi, Cardinal Newman, James Spencer Northcote, Evelyn Waugh, and many others.

Gilbert Keith Chesterton Collection, 1874–1936

Extensive collection of this British writer's books, reviews, drawings, and correspondence. Chesterton, like Belloc, was a man of many talents -- essayist, critic, poet, and novelist. A convert to Catholicism, he is perhaps best-known for his Father Brown detective stories.

Citywide Coordinating Council Archives, 1975–1978

Complete records of the council formed to desegregate the Boston school system as ordered by Judge Arthur Garrity.

The Rev. Robert F. Drinan, S.J. Papers

The collection represents an extensive record of Fr. Drinan's service in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1970 to 1980. As the first Roman Catholic priest ever elected to Congress, Fr. Drinan was a unique figure in American politics. The collection includes important material on the impeachment of Richard Nixon, the war in Viet Nam, and the termination of the House Committee on Un-American activities.

Fine Print Collection

Representative collections from modern limited press editions: Foulis Press, Golden Cockerel, Nonesuch, Oriole Press (Ishill), Peppercannister, St. Dominic's, and Stanbrook Abbey.

Irish Collection

Formed by Helen Landreth, the eminent scholar of Robert Emmet and the Irish Rebellion, the collection richly represents the periods 1790–1810 and 1850–1885. Included also are samplings of the Irish literary renaissance poets and playwrights, such as Seamus Heaney, and writers and private presses of Ireland today.

Jesuitana Collection, 1543–1773

Includes rare works dealing with missionary letters written from the Far East in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, works of science, and works on Biblical exegesis and classical scholarship. An original holograph letter from St. Francis Xavier to John III, King of Portugal, dated 31 January 1552 crowns this exceptional body of unusual works.

Rita Kelleher Collection

In recognition of her twenty-five years of service to the School of Nursing, including twenty years as Dean, this collection contains archival, historical, research, and other significant materials in nursing.

Liturgy and Life, 1825–1975

Formed by William J. Leonard, S.J., this ever-growing collection of books, ephemera, and the personal papers of the twentieth century pioneer liturgists documents the life of the Church in America in the pre-Vatican II era. Highlights include books on pastoral and devotional literature and liturgical theory and commentary, and thousands of devotional items.

Meynell Family Collection

The Meynell Family Collection is both an adjunct to the Francis Thompson Collection and important in its own right. Includes correspondence, first editions, and works about the poet Alice Meynell, her publisher husband Wilfred, and their children Francis, the proprietor of the Nonesuch Press, and Viola.

Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr. Papers

Includes the papers and memorabilia of the former Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives dating from his election to Congress in 1952 to his retirement from politics in 1986. The collection contains extensive correspondence on the American military buildup in Southeast Asia and provides an excellent overview of Democratic party politics over three decades.

Rex Stout Collection and Archives, 1886–1975

Famed creator of the Nero Wolfe mysteries, Stout is here represented by the best collection in existence of his personal manuscripts, correspondence, editions, and secondary sources, together with his own library.

Francis Thompson Collection, 1859–1907

The most complete body of original material by Francis Thompson, one of the foremost poets of the British Catholic literary renaissance. Includes autographed manuscripts, 1500 frames of microfilm of hitherto unknown manuscripts, and first editions. There is also material by and about Coventry Patmore.

Typography and Design

Collection of books, woodblocks, prints, etc. from such artists as Eric Gill, David Jones, Bruce Rogers, and George F. Trenholm.

Nicholas M. Williams Collection

A collection assembled by Joseph Williams, S.J. in honor of his father. The emphasis on Jamaica and its black culture is supplemented by West African roots and South American parallelisms. Includes the Anansi Folktale Archives.

Other collections include:

Maurice Baring Collection, 1874–1945
 Bookbuilders of Boston Archives, 1938–
 Burns, Oates and Washbourne Collection, 1847–1954

Special Nursing Collections O'Neill Library

The Boston College Guild of St. Luke of Boston Health Ethics Collection

Initiated in 1974, this contains books, pamphlets, periodicals, reprints, and audio-visual materials which concern the ethics of medicine, nursing, and health care.

National Health Planning Information Center

O'Neill Library is one of the twenty-six United States and European depositories for NHPIC non-copyrighted materials in microfiche format. These cover a variety of topics relevant to health planning and resources with a strong nursing component. Consult reference librarians for additional information in regard to the scope and use of this collection.

University Archives

Archives are the official non-current papers and records of an institution that are deemed worthy of permanent preservation for their legal, fiscal, or historical values. The University Archives contain the office records and documents of the various University offices, academic and otherwise, copies of all University publications, including student publications, movie footage of Boston College football, some audio-visual materials, and tape recordings of the University Lecture Series and other significant events. A significant collection of photographs documents the pictorial history of Boston College. Alumni, faculty, and Jesuit records are also preserved. In addition, the Archives are the repository for the documents of Newton College of the Sacred Heart (1946–1975); The Jesuit Education Association (1934–1970); the Catholic International Education Office (1952–1976); and the documents of the Jesuit Community at Boston College (1863–).

The Language Laboratory

The Language Laboratory serves all of the language departments, and provides English for Foreign Students. In addition to its 70 state-of-the-art listening/recording stations and dual-teacher console, the facility includes video and film viewing rooms and three audio-interfaced microcomputers. The Laboratory's audio and videotape collection, computer software, and other audio-visual learning aids directly support and/or supplement the curriculum requirements in foreign language, literature, and music.

Athletics

THE YEAR IN REVIEW 1986-1987

A YEAR OF CHAMPIONS . . .

The 1986-1987 athletic year at Boston College mirrored most recent campaigns and seasons at the Heights: there was a generous measure of success gained on the playing fields, rinks, and courts; a record level of student participation in all levels of athletic competition and activity; and, topping the year, there were several major accomplishments which brought the spotlight of the athletic world favorably on those student-athletes and coaches who wear the University's Maroon and Gold.

The 1986 football campaign got off to a bleak start. After the season's first four games, Coach Jack Bicknell's Eagles had managed but one victory, and alumni and fans wondered, sometimes quite vocally, if Boston College's recent gridiron success was but a darting flash.

An October 11 visit to the University of Maryland made the doubters quickly change their ways, however. Eagle quarterback Shawn Halloran passed the revived Eagles to an impressive 30-25 victory over the nationally-ranked Terrapins, and Bicknell's crew would not lose for the remainder of the season, reeling off eight straight wins in the process.

The final regular season game found Boston College handing long-time Jesuit rival Holy Cross a definitive 56-26 thrashing at muddy Fitton Field in Worcester. (The traditional rivalry begun in 1893 between these two New England teams was to end this day, however. That muddy game in Worcester was the last ever football meeting between the two rivals as Holy Cross abruptly ended the series at that point.) Following the game, the Eagles were invited to participate in the Hall of Fame Bowl in Tampa, Florida. It was the fourth time in the past five years that a Jack Bicknell-led Eagle team had earned a post-season appearance.

In Tampa, it was Halloran — at one time the target of some fans' early disappointment — who fired the winning touchdown pass to Kelvin Martin with just seconds left on the clock to send the football Eagles home to Boston as champions.

The 1986 Eagles distinguished themselves in the classroom as well as on the field. Defensive tackle Mike Degan, a student in the Graduate School of Management, was named First Team Academic All-America — BC's first such honor in a decade.

* * * * *

Another shining milestone was reached in hockey competition — long a successful sport in the Boston College athletic tradition. On February 9, 1987, Coach Len Ceglarski recorded his 556th career victory with a 7-6 overtime win over cross-town rival Harvard. That made the 1951 graduate the winningest coach in the history of this collegiate sport.

Ceglarski went on to lead the Eagles to a school record 31 victories, the HOCKEY EAST championship, and a fourth straight bid to participate in the NCAA championship playoffs.

This winter, four members of that 1986-1987 Boston College team (Brian Leetch '90, Craig Janney '89, Greg Brown '89, and Kevin Stevens '87) have been selected to play on the United States team in 1988 Olympic competition.

* * * * *

The wide range of accomplishments of Boston College's student-athletes is reflected in the five seniors who were selected to receive the Nathaniel J. Hasenfus Award, presented annually to the University's best athletic performers.

Those selected in 1986-1987 were: Steve Trapilo '86, an All-America offensive lineman in football, who was a co-captain of the Hall of Fame Bowl championship team . . .

Tara McKenna '87, a swimmer who set New England records in five different events, won eight BIG EAST championships, and 10 Eastern championships. She has qualified for the U.S. Olympic Trials in 1988 . . .

Ray Hawkins '87 is the Greater Boston, New England and BIG EAST champion in both the long jump and triple jump track and field competitions . . . he also holds the school record in both of the events . . .

AP/Wide World Photos

Katie Molumphy '87 won three BIG EAST Conference tennis championships in her four varsity seasons as she won 29 of 30 league matches . . . she was one of the few players in the history of college tennis to have won 100 career matches and she was the first Boston College player ever to earn an invitation to the NCAA Division I tennis championships . . .

John Schwegman '86 was captain of the Boston College baseball team . . . a strong defensive catcher, excellent base-runner, and lifetime .300 hitter . . . he was named to several regional All-Star teams . . .
