

Undergraduate Research Opportunities

with the

PETROVICH LAB

Are you interested in how environmental factors impact appetite and consumption?

With the Petrovich lab you would:

The Petrovich Lab is seeking highly motivated undergraduate research assistants for the Spring semester.

Candidates must:

- Have taken Behavioral Neuroscience
- Be scientifically curious
- Be able to dedicate 10hrs per week

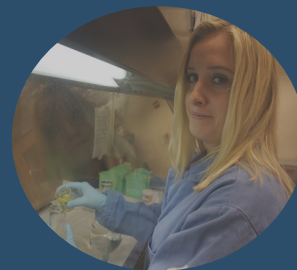

TO APPLY: fill out application under 'contact' section of Petrovich lab website (petrovichlab.bc.edu) and email to Shelby Parsons (parsonwi@bc.edu)

Help conduct behavioral consumption experiments with rodents

Learn about brain anatomy & circuitry and assist in histological procedures

Have an active involvement in chemical solution making

Gorica D. Petrovich Ph.D.
Professor, Behavioral Neuroscience

BOSTON COLLEGE

Department of Psychology &
Neuroscience

For additional details & information please contact Shelby Parsons at parsonwi@bc.edu or visit the Petrovich lab website.